

Prelicensing Education Course Expiration

Applicants must pass the state exam within two years after passing the education course or the course becomes invalid for licensure. However, during the period from January 12, 2004, to June 30, 2006, the rule was invalid, meaning that students who completed their courses during that period have no time limit on their course credit [475.181(2) F.S.].
